

Cosmic Ordering

I have recently had several clients asking me about cosmic ordering, so here is some information on Cosmic Ordering and how to use it.

If you have a cosmic ordering experience you would like to share, please email me.

Cosmic ordering is a powerful phenomenon that allows us to use cosmic energy to make things happen in our lives – effectively making our dreams come true.

One of the most famous stories is how Noel Edmonds used cosmic ordering to create the opportunity of working on “Deal or No Deal”.

Energy is all around us, if we can make the right connection we can ask for a change in life or circumstance from the universe.

How it works

Cosmic Ordering works by capturing the energy of our positive thoughts. Anything can be possible - the limits are set in your own mind.

Try it yourself.

5 Easy Steps To Make Cosmic Ordering Work For You

1. Think about what you want

This is the hard part! Think carefully about what you want – what will happen if you do get it. Will it change you? Are you sure it will make you happy?

For cosmic ordering to work you need to have a clear intention of what you want. You have to have a real desire and feel that you deserve it - this is very important as however much you want something if you do not truly believe that you deserve it then it will not manifest itself.

In your minds eye, see your goal.

Imagine what it will be like when you achieve it.

Make sure that you desire and deserve it.

You have to have a willingness to trust the timing. You continue to go about things that may help you to achieve your desire.

The universe uses the energy that you send out to send you back opportunities or solutions to meet your needs.

Think about all aspects of your life – love – family – health – career – money.

Some people like to write down their cosmic orders, and it can be useful to refer to at a later time.

2. Stay Positive

Avoid negative and hurtful orders; they will only make you negative. Keep your orders truthful and positive, and order only things that are important to you. Be sure that orders come from the heart.

3. Trust Yourself

It is often best to start cosmic ordering with small, less important things. This will help you gain confidence in the process and teach you to trust yourself and the choices you make. We often try to control our environment, sometimes without even realizing that we do it. Cosmic ordering requires us to let go of this control and trust the process. It is difficult to achieve successful cosmic ordering when there are emotional and psychological blocks.

4. Believe and Accept

Learn to accept what the universe offers, and keep yourself open to the opportunities being offered to you. The universe brings you what you deserve. Believe that you are worthwhile; accept that you deserve good things. Your Cosmic Order will remain unfilled if your inner belief says you don't deserve it. Believe it and accept it.

5. Enjoy and be grateful

It is a great feeling when your cosmic ordering is successful. Recognize your success and enjoy the feeling. It is a good and joyful thing, and it also helps you feel stronger and more positive about your future orders!

Cosmic Ordering will make you feel more positive, and this can have long term health benefits. Being positive reduces stress, and helps avoid depression. It can help avoid high blood pressure and boost your immune system. It will also improve bad eating habits, and could even help you cut down on drinking and smoking.

Staying positive will make you feel good about yourself and make you appear more successful and attractive to others.
