

Have Your Own Experience

BECOME... AWARE, SEEK... KNOWLEDGE,
LEARN... TRUTH,
OBTAIN... UNDERSTANDING.

Most people read about others fascinating spiritual experiences, but the point is not just to entertain and amaze us, but to inspire us toward our own experiences. Having a personal relationship with the Divine, is the greatest experience you will ever have. There is nothing to fear if your intentions are pure.

When you open yourself to the Spiritual World, you throw off the shackles, limitations and the everyday projections of the world. You open yourself to magical and mystical experiences, and to non-physical realities and beings.

If you make yourself available to Spirit on a regular basis and affirm your openness and willingness to participate in a greater life, you will begin to have your own amazing experiences. New ways of thinking will develop, and you will start to notice synchronicities and undeniable coincidences as spirit try to get your attention, this will lead you to even more wonderful energies and encounters.

Your life will never be the same, so are you up for it?

If so, set your intention to align yourself with Spirit and acknowledge your willingness and openness, and be quiet while you wait for a response. If you are sincere in your desire it will happen. You will have your own unique experiences that will change your world. Is it time for a paradigm shift for you? If so, get started. It's the greatest journey I know. Nothing has held my interest for as long as my spiritual growth.

Go on, do it, have your own experience.
