

If Wishes Were Fishes

If wishes they were fishes
And the salmon's wisdom tapped
We would be fully conscious
Enlightened and not trapped
With oceans full of consciousness
We would grow up true and strong
Fed and watered evenly
And know true right from wrong
And as we eat and share together
True development will flow
With no wicked deviations
Truth seeds of light will glow
So I am wishing for more fishes
To help this garden spread
With multi-versal one-ness
In that river straight ahead.
